

National Center for Interprofessional Practice and Education Resources for IPE

Strategic Imperatives:

1. Build capacity to advance the interprofessional practice and education field through learning, scholarship and research
2. Design curriculum together with community within the Nexus to strive to achieve outcomes that matter most to the individuals and populations served are being addressed
3. Address racism and caste within health care teams so the knowledge, experience and well-being of all members can contribute to superior outcomes for those being served
4. Engage people (individuals, families, communities and populations) served in the Nexus so their interests, beliefs and priorities are reflected as we define what matters most in health, healthcare and the education of the future health workforce.
5. Generate new knowledge to improve practice and education outcomes that advance health among the people served

Nexusipe.org

- Professional Directory – 7,660 IPE professionals
- Map of IPE Centers in the United States
- Resource Center: over 2,200 freely-available toolkits, journal articles, reports, tools
- Assessment and Evaluation resource page with Measurement Instrument Collection

American Interprofessional Health Collaborative

- The professional community of the National Center
- Membership is open to individuals who are interested in transforming health in the United States through interprofessional collaboration, including all members of the healthcare team and learners
- Committee collaboration, scholarship, leadership and mentorship, student engagement
- Join today at aihc-us.org